Wow! What a year 2017 has been. Milwaukee Boat Show, much planning and many meetings for the ACBS International Show, the Spring Banquet at Reef Point Marina, numerous boat shows around the state, our two shows in Madison and Pewaukee, a Very Successful International Show in Racine, and finally our Fall Banquet at the Delafield Brewhouse with Chapter Elections of new Officers.

I am very proud to be your new Commodore and welcome our new officers and their new positions and thank outgoing officers for their hard work and dedication to our chapter. We are hoping that 2018 will be a year of fun and new things for our chapter.

As I write this column, we are engaged in our annual Milwaukee Boat Show presence showcasing what our chapter is all about. Planning for our Spring Banquet is also underway. In addition to these things, we are planning a new show in Green Bay along with the Madison and Pewaukee shows.

Green Bay and South Bay Marina along with Hands on Deck have expressed interest in having a Classic Boat Show at the Marina. They will be very involved in planning and organizing this show. We will also have help from our members in the area who have expressed interest in a show in their part of our state. A River Run and a Day and Night boat parade are being considered. This event is hoped to be way less work and more boating fun for our members. Stay tuned for more information as we get closer to our planned date of July 13/14, 2018. Suggestions and volunteers are always welcome.

As spring and summer approach, consider planning to attend some of the various shows around our beautiful state and country. The Spring Show on Lake Dora in Florida with the St. John's River Run is a great way to start the season. Manitowish Waters is another great show in late May held last year at Little Bohemia. The Minocqua Show in late June is always fun. July will be the inaugural Green Bay Show. Maybe another Milwaukee River Run, Ken? Then our Madison and Pewaukee shows with Sturgeon Bay in between. The International ACBS Show will be held in Port Huron, MI this year. And finally, the Blackhawk Show at the Abbey on Lake Geneva. No excuse for not getting that beautiful boat out on the water.

Stay warm my friends and get that boat ready for 2018, our best year yet.

MEMBER PROFILE

Chris, Tessa and 3 year old daughter Quinn Franz

EDITOR FOOTNOTE: Yours truly saw Tim and Judi Fredman at a Pops Concert in December. At intermission, pulling out his smart phone, Tim said "Did you see this story on the ACBS website about a Glacier Lakes Chapter member, Chris Franz buying a Silver Arrow? Do you know him?" I said I don't go on the website much but would check it out. I traded emails with Chris and realized I took a picture of his daughter pulling a toy boat she had painted at the Pewaukee Boat Show this past August. The following story appeared on the ACBS website

I've been in ACBS since 2014, but have been into wood boats ever since I was a teen. I grew up in the small northern Wisconsin town of Eagle River, home to many lakes with several hidden mahogany gems. So in 2003 I bought my first boat, a 1950 Higgins. I purchased it as a present to myself, after spending a year and a half over in Afghanistan. I felt it to be very fitting to buy a boat since I hadn't truly seen as much as a small pond for my entire deployment.....The Higgins was a Sport Speedster 17' plywood boat with a Fireball V8, that turned out to be a great all around skier/cruiser. Since the first boat I have never looked back. We used that boat up until a few years ago when I was finally able to make the purchase on the Silver Arrow. Today we have the Silver Arrow getting restored, and a 1958 Correct Craft Starflight project. As far as my family, I have my wife Tessa and a 3 year old daughter, Quinn. We live just north of Madison in the small town of Poynette. We spend most of the warm days cruising on Lake Wisconsin, and the rest of them waiting for the rain to stop.

FROM THE ACBS WEBSITE: Follow the tale of patience in pursuing a dream and the continuing saga of making it come to fruition. Chris Franz, Glacier Lakes Chapter, is sharing such a story with us today.

So it starts out with me seeing a very rare Chris Craft Silver Arrow Prototype on eBay for an exorbitant amount of money. Even with the high price tag, I decided to contact the owner. After a few different conversations, I knew there was no deal that would be made. So like many of us, I decided to just watch as things develop in the auctions. The boat stayed on eBay for about a year and eventually it was sold off to its new owner.

Then about 3 years later the Arrow surfaced once again on eBay. And just as before, the boat had a very high price tag. I did just as I did before and contacted the owner. Again, it was quite obvious a deal would not be struck. So the boat spent a fair amount of time on eBay.

In the meantime, I contacted the previous owner to try and find out what the current owner paid. So after about a 3 hour conversation with that owner, I learned of the boats checkered past of death, deceit, and deception. In his opinion, the boat was bad luck and should be avoided at all costs. So with all this new info I thought well, maybe I should pass.

But the lure of a Chris Craft Silver Arrow Prototype was too much. Doing my due diligence, I reached out to Hagerty just to try and figure how many prototype boats there are. Come to find out Chris Craft did not have prototypes except in the case of the Silver Arrow. Being it was their true attempt at a fiberglass boat, they made 2 serial numbered prototypes. All other prototype boats from Chris Craft were always serial numbered as number one in the series.

Hagerty also mentioned there are very few prototype boats in general. In fact, at that time, they only had one in their registry. So now, being armed with all of this new and somewhat strange information I continued to keep tabs on the boat. The boat went off and on eBay, craigslist, etc. etc. for the next 9 months. So eventually the owner quit advertising, deciding to keep it.

Another 6 months went by and I almost gave up on it, until my company needed me to bring a customer to a conference in L.A. Being the boat was located in Long Beach, I thought about the possibility of seeing the boat. And of course, now the current owner became unreachable. So, while on the plane, I asked my company customer if he was interested in taking a day off from the conference to follow my wild goose chase. He was 100% in and I wasn't ready to pass up the opportunity to at least see this boat in person. So after a few days at the conference, and no phone calls back from the owner, I decided to head out to Long Beach anyway.

Luckily the information I had was correct and we landed on the doorstep of the owner of the boat I had been waiting to see for quite some time. He reluctantly answered the door and I had to use my best skills to get him to show me the boat. The boat was in the very back corner of a 30x40 garage completely buried. It seemed as if the man I had talked to previously was quite different than the person I spoke with before. This made me wonder if he had fallen on hard times? Feeding into the theory of the boat being bad luck.....

So we spent the next hour unearthing the boat until it could be seen from all angles.

A few weeks after, the Silver Arrow finally made it to Wisconsin. Coincidentally, my pontoon boat caught on fire the same day the Silver Arrow made it to my driveway, feeding into the curse of the boat. But outside of that, I can happily report that life is good, and the Silver Arrow is currently being restored by Paul Cundiff at Woodies Restorations. Paul's team refers to the boat as Christine, due to the wild and crazy stories that the previous owner had spoken of. All in good fun, Paul even had a psychic medium and a priest come to view and bless the boat, just to be safe... In other words, it's been a lot of fun getting to know Paul and the team at Woodies Restorations. We are looking forward to being in the water this coming summer!

It was just as described, and was breathtaking even with the disrepair it was in. And of course, just in case, I had cash with me. So after a few hours of back and forth negotiation, I walked away with my customer laughing over the events of the day, a title to a Silver Arrow, and a grin that I'm still wearing today!

Madison Area Antique & Classic Boat Cruise August 3 and August 4th, 2018

The Madison boat show is turning into a cruising event for 2018!

We have heard for years from boat owners that they enjoyed the cruising in their boats rather than sitting at the dock (dreaming about actually using their boats).

For 2018, we are keeping the Friday tour, with lunch and dinner provided during the fun day of cruising. However, Saturday will involve an optional boat parade around Lake Waubesa and Monona without an actual static boat show.

There will be an informal cruise on Saturday mid-morning with a gathering of those interested to enjoy the lakes. The loose agenda includes a boat parade with possible stops to swim, tie-up, and just use our boats on the Madison lakes. There is no registration or agenda other than boating with friends and family.

For more information regarding the activities, please go to the events tab on the www.GLACBS.org website.

A Holiday Story

By Perry and Jill Edwards

Last fall, after restoring and selling another 16 ft wooden boat, I needed a project to keep me busy through the cold winter months.

My thoughts had been on a great looking 1955 20 ft Chris Craft "Holiday" I had seen for sale at the Aug 5th 2017 Madison Boat Show. That same boat was also up at the Door County Sturgeon Bay Boat Show the following weekend, with it's owner Chuck Deadman, a fellow Glacier Lakes Chapter member.

That Saturday evening, sitting outside at our beach resort/motel, my wife and I heard and saw this Chris Craft come screaming down the Bay. It was Chuck Deadman in his Holiday! Seeing my waving and hearing my "distinct voice" calling out to him, he drove to shore to pick us up for a ride. What a fun ride and a smooth running boat ! My interest and my wife's interest as well were increased, so after a month's worth of checking out other boats for sale, we bought Chuck's boat. I thought, "how much difference or more difficulty can there be with a 20 foot boat over a 16 foot ?"

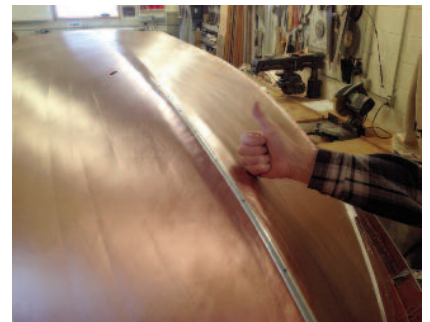

Well, when I walked into Chuck's shop to pick up the boat, it looked like a monster with that extra 4 feet of boat and trailer ! Now I thought, "what the hell am I in for ?" No way could I enlist my neighbor to lift out the engine or flip this boat, since the winch & boom in his shop were strained to the limit when helping with the 16 foot boats I had done in the past.

All went well when I called a local shop that has an auto wrecker with an extended boom, they were able to come and lift the engine out right at my home shop site. Then John Ritter, at S & R Marine in Pewaukee, did a smooth job of flipping the boat twice. Generally the boat is in great shape but as shown in the pictures it needed bottom repairs, so I applied a West system with a Copper Bronze finish.

Currently, we're upgrading the inside to freshen that up and are looking forward to this summers boating and show season, since we plan on having some fun with this beauty of a boat.

DOOR COUNTY Classic & Wooden Boat Festival

August 10-12, 2018 Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin

It's fun for everyone. The weekend features beautiful boats to admire, some professionally built and maintained, others the work of talented amateurs. They range from canoes and kayaks to sailboats to fiberglass classics to glorious mahogany runabouts. Saturday's adjacent Maritime on Madison Street Festival showcases local merchants and features great food, shopping specials, children's activities, and music. Sunday brings the conclusion of the annual Sikaflex Challenge boatbuilding contest. Beginning Saturday, teams of amateurs rush to build plywood boats, decorate them, and finally race them on the water! Some will actually float and finish, others may not. Come cheer them on. There is fun for the whole family.

Best of all, admission to the festival is free!

Festival visitors can roam the docks, take in the displays, eat great food, talk with the skippers, and then cast a ballot to choose a People's Choice Boat of the Year. Registered skippers will vote to choose Boats of the Year in a number of categories; Classic Inboard, Classic Outboard, Sailboat, Classic Fiberglass, Non-powered, Model Boat, Unique Craft, and overall Skipper's Best of Show. For a small admission fee, anyone can tour the museum itself and the museum's signature vessel, the century old sea-going tug, the John Purves.

Friday is filled with special pre-festival activities for registered boaters. Our annual 10-mile "Bay-to-Lake Lighthouse Cruise" will take our fleet of classic boats past one of the largest shipyards on the Great Lakes to the Sherwood Point Lighthouse on Green Bay. We'll snap pictures and then return to downtown Sturgeon Bay and tie up for lunch. Following lunch we'll cruise to Lake Michigan through the Sturgeon Bay Ship Canal and take a look at the Coast Guard Station and Lights before reversing course and returning to the museum. It's a fun way to get those classics out on the water for some fun before the festival opens. That evening, skippers and crew will enjoy a complimentary cocktail reception in the museum. It will be a great way to start the weekend.

Watch for further information on our 2018 festival website at www.doorcountyclassicboatfestival.com. For lodging needs, visit www.doorcounty.com for an extensive listing of hotels and resorts.
